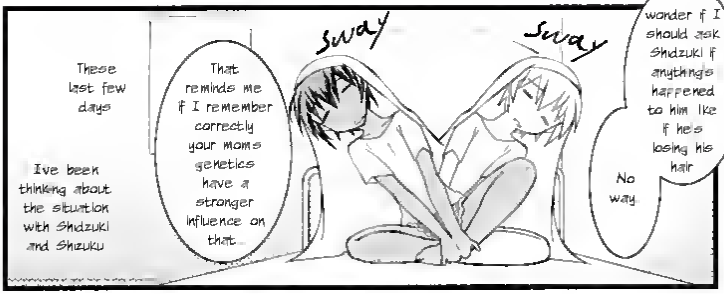
Chapter 6
Your father is so worried he's literally losing his hair
Kimika can you please go to school tomorrow?
If I leave things as they are
I also think it's a bad idea for you to keep going on like this
At this rate it will look like someone took a lawnmower to your father's hair
I wonder if it'll also look like someone took a lawnmower to my hair
Hair loss is the least of my worries now



These last few days
Ive been thinking about the stuation with Shizuki and Shizuku
That reminds me if I remember correctly your moms genetics have a stronger influence on that...
Sway
Sway
I wonder if I should ask Shizuki if anything's happened to him like if he's losing his hair
No way

I cant stop thinking about t
They might be afraid to meet
I want to meet them

Sigh...
I was so fixated on how guys should be
Should I have pointed at Shizuki and mocked him...
But I cant think of a solution

He deserved it anyways
It's fine
I shouldn't say that...

I've turned back...

and..
Grrrr...
I was so worried about how unlucky I was that I didnt realize until just now that other things like my skin color also changed.
This might be related to those rumors from the game.
Now that Ive turned back, its time to get some food in my belly!
Mom Im hungry!

After not seeing each other for so long that's how you greet me!?
I want to talk a lot about what's been going on, however
Does anyone in your family suffer from hair loss?

For now this is good enough for me
Your extended family must be large. Surely there's someone like that you're forgetting!
Nope, no one like that comes to mind
We were reunted after such a long time

Translation Note

When Kimika and her mother are talking about hair loss, her mother mentions that her father will end up with a "ochimusha look". Kimika then wonders if she'll also end up with a "ochimusha look". Ochimusha were defeated soldiers who dishonorably fled from battle. They are traditionally depicted with the crown of their head shaved, like in the image to the left.
